Your employer is required by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) to provide each employee with a W-2 Form that states the employee's compensation and tax withholding amounts for the calendar year on or before January 31st of the following year. The IRS permits the use of electronic W-2 statements to meet this requirement. Starting this year, instead of paper copies, employees may choose to receive W-2 statements electronically.

The benefits of receiving an electronic W-2 statement are:

- Earlier access.
- Once received electronically, there is significantly less possibility that the W-2 may be lost or stolen.
- Electronic access is possible if the employee is away from his/her usual home or work location.
- Compensation and tax withholding information may easily be downloaded into many tax preparation software programs

Employers must comply with specific IRS regulations to use electronic W-2s and employees must provide their consent to receive an electronic W-2 instead of a paper copy. This notice contains the required IRS disclosure information and instructions for you to consent to receive your W-2 electronically instead of a paper copy. If you have any questions regarding this notice or your W-2 Statement, contact the HR department at hr@zamphr.com.

Please read this entire notice and, if you wish to receive all future W-2 statements from the company electronically, provide your consent as instructed below. If you do not provide consent, you will continue to receive a paper copy of your W-2 statement.

As required by the IRS, this consent must be made electronically in a manner that reasonably demonstrates that the employee can access the W-2 in the electronic format in which it will be provided. As an alternative, the consent may be made via e-mail or a paper authorization if it is confirmed electronically in a manner that demonstrates the employee's ability to access the electronic statement.

To assure compliance with this requirement, employees who wish to receive their W-2 electronically, must either:

1. Log in to the Employee Portal, click on Documents, download "W-2 Electronic Consent," then email the completed form with a wet signature (non-digital signature) to oss@zamphr.com. OR
2. Download and complete this form electronically via an emailed link.

If you are unable to provide consent in this preferred manner, please contact the HR Department as soon as you can. This consent will cease if the employee is no longer employed with the company.

Employees who choose to receive the W-2 statement electronically may withdraw their consent. The employee's withdrawal of consent will be effective on the date it is received, and the OSS Team will confirm in writing or by e-mail the effective date of the consent withdrawal. If consent is withdrawn, it will only be effective for those W-2 statements not yet issued.

To withdraw your consent, send an e-mail or written notice to:

OSS Team
Zamp HR
384 S 400 W Suite 120
Lindon, UT 84042

oss@zamphr.com

In addition, an employee's written request to receive a paper copy will be considered a withdrawal of consent for electronic delivery.

If an employee consents to electronic W-2 delivery and the delivery is unable to be made due to a technical problem, incorrect login or password, or incorrect e-mail address, the employee will receive a paper copy to their last known address. If there is any change in how to receive electronic delivery, employees will be notified immediately via e-mail or written notice. Employees are also required to inform their HR manager promptly of any personal address or status changes through the company intranet or by written notification.

Electronic W-2 statements will always be accessible on the Zamp HR Employee Portal for all employees to

1. Login at www.employeeportal.com
2. Click "Taxes"
3. Click "W-2"
